Dear Bill,

I much appreciated your note of the 12th. Please don't feel at all concerned about the candid advice which you gave me. I appreciated that all of the facts in the circumstance were not available to you and put your suggestion in that context. It was very helpful to me and I particularly appreciated your expression of interest in the situation.

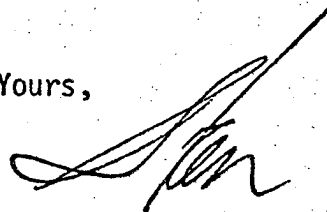

STAT I am aware of your letter to [redacted] of our Information and Privacy Staff. I have asked him to look into it carefully and give you as complete an answer as possible.

STAT You might be interested to know that Bob Bowie, who joined us for that luncheon with [redacted], announced this morning that he would be retiring in August. He has certainly done a splendid job for us and will be a difficult man to replace.

STAT I note from the morning paper that you, too, will have a difficult replacement problem as [redacted]. I certainly look forward to working with him in that new capacity and providing any support that we can.

With best wishes.

Yours,

STANSFIELD TURNER

Mr. William E. Jackson, Jr.
